No. B/5001 of 1912.

From

The Honourable Surgeon-General H. W. STEVENSON, I. M. S.,
Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay;

To

The SECRETARY to GOVERNMENT,
General Department, Bombay.

Poona, 25th April 1912.

Sir,

I have the honour to submit, for the information of Government, the Triennial Report on the Lunatic Asylums of the Bombay Presidency for the years 1909—1911.

Buildings and Repairs.

2. The buildings in the different asylums generally are in good order. Those at Colába stand in need of extensive repair and alterations, but in view of the fact that this asylum will shortly be abandoned, nothing but absolutely necessary work has been done there. This is also the case with the asylum at Poona.

During the triennium under review the work of increasing and improving the accommodation, both for the patients and attendants, has been gradually carried on in those asylums which are to be retained after the Central Asylum at Yeravda has been occupied.

At Naupáda (Thána) quarters for the matron have been constructed. The interior roads of the asylum have been metalled; and the latrines in the criminal ward have been paved. Additional accommodation is now required at this asylum for 108 patients, i. e., 60 males and 48 females. There has been considerable overcrowding at times. The total accommodation is for 240 patients and the maximum number on any one night was 276.

At Ratnágiri a padded cell, an isolation block, two bath-rooms, sweepers quarters, and a small work-shed for females have been provided. Barracks to accommodate 18 civil male insanes are under construction and will shortly be completed.

At Dhárwár the compound wall of the asylum was completed. A covered bath has been built, and a new cooking range has been provided. The kitchen and two cells have been floored with patent stone. New quarters for the Sub-Assistant Surgeons and additions and alterations in the existing quarters for the servants have been sanctioned. Barracks and cells for female lunatics are in the course of construction and will soon be completed. This asylum still requires a convalescent ward and additional hospital accommodation, together with improvements in the ventilation of some of the cells, and in the flooring of some of the barracks.

At Ahmedabad quarters for the sweepers and 20 additional cells for criminal insanes together with certain other additions and alterations to the buildings have been completed.

At Hyderabad several minor works have been carried out. A few more cells are required in this asylum, otherwise the accommodation is satisfactory.

The building of the new Central Asylum at Yeravda is nearing completion and it is expected to be ready for occupation by April 1913.

Water-supply.

3. The supply has been fairly good at all the asylums.

The shortage formerly reported at Colába and Ratnágiri has now ceased owing to improved arrangements.

STATEMENT No. I.

Total population.

4. The number of insanes admitted and re-admitted into the asylums during the year 1911 was 314 males and 75 females as compared with 301 males and 72 females in 1910 and 313 males and 51 females in 1909, the average admissions during the years 1909—11 being 309 males and 66 females against 305 males and 65 females in 1906—08.

The total number of patients in the asylums during the year 1911 was 1,367 against 1,357 in 1910 and 1,355 in 1909. The mean population for the triennium averaged 1,090 males and 270 females, showing an increase of 59 males and a decrease of 6 females over the previous triennium 1906—1908.

The average increase of 53 in the total population of the asylums during the three years 1909—1911 was shared by the Naupáda, Ratnágiri, Dhárwár and Ahmedabad Asylums.

There was a marked decrease of 25 in the mean European population of the Colába Asylum.

Daily average strength.

The daily average strength in 1911 was 1,019·8 as compared with 986·1 in 1910 and 988·6 in 1909. The mean strength for the triennium under review was 998·2 against 951·5 for 1906—1908.

The chief cause for the steady increase in the number of patients in the asylums would appear to be the growing popularity of these institutions. People are beginning to realize that the mentally afflicted are much better off in an asylum than in their own homes. Also, owing perhaps to higher ideas of personal comfort, and probably less leisure to look after them, they are becoming less tolerant of insane persons in their households and near neighbourhood. There is no evidence to show that any actual increase of insanity is taking place amongst the general population, though it must be acknowledged that, from lack of reliable information as to its prevalence hitherto, there are no grounds on which a positive opinion can be based.

Discharges and Cures.

Of the total treated, an average of 111 males and 19 females were cured during the triennium as compared with 114 males and 22 females in 1906—1908; and the mean ratio for 1909—1911 was 14·1 males and 9·1 females against 15·3 males and 10·3 females in 1906—1908.

Of the insanes returned as "transferred to friends" the average number shown as "improved" for the period 1909—11 was 77 and "not improved" was 26 as compared with 70 and 50 for 1906—1908.

Sickness.

The daily average of sick in 1911 was 34·6 as compared with 28·0 in 1910 and 23·9 in 1909, the mean of the triennium being 28·8 against 26·4 of the previous three years. The percentage of sickness to the daily average strength was 3·3 against 2·8 in 1910 and 2·4 in 1909, the average ratio for the two periods under review being the same, viz. 2·8. The general health of the insanes was on the whole satisfactory.

Mortality.

The number of deaths fell from 130 in 1909 to 126 in 1910 and 89 in 1911. The average mortality, however, for these years was high as compared with the previous triennium, namely 115 against 72. The ratio per cent. of deaths to the daily average strength was 8·7 as compared with 12·8 in 1910 and 13·1 in 1909. The mean death rate to the daily average strength during the three years 1909—1911 was 11·5 against 7·5 in 1906—1908.

The following table shows the ratio per cent. of deaths to the daily average strength at the several asylums during 1906—1908 and 1909—1911 respectively:—

	1911.			1910.			1909.			Mean of Triennium, 1909—1911.			Mean of Triennium 1906—1908.

Hyderabad	9·0	...	6·3	12·3	...	11·5	12·7	...	11·9	11·3	...	10·5	10·9	25·0	12·1

From these figures it will be seen that Naupáda has by far the largest mortality of any of the asylums. Something of this is due to the condition of the patients on admission, many of whom have been obtaining a precarious living by begging in Bombay and are admitted in varying stages of debility, but, allowing for this, the death rate is very high. It was swollen in 1909 by an outbreak of Cholera, but in 1910 and 1911 also the number of deaths was large.

Diseases of the bowels are very prevalent and the exact cause has not yet been ascertained. An enquiry into this is now going on. The situation of the Asylum has nothing but its proximity to Bombay to recommend it. It is water-logged in the time of the S. W. Monsoon and the very heavy rains and continual damp render it a most undesirable place for the treatment of insanes who stand such conditions badly. Pneumonia and tuberculosis cause a number of deaths each year and Malaria is very common.

Of the 210 deaths which took place at this asylum during the triennium there were 41 from Cholera, 44 from Diarrhœa, 20 from Dysentery, 21 from Pneumonia, 15 from Tubercle of lungs and bowels, 49 from fever and debility and 10 from other causes. Of these, 29 deaths occurred among persons who were admitted in a very bad state of health and died within a month of their admission and 25 occurred among persons who were old and weakly.

The mean death rate at the other asylums was low as compared with the previous triennium.

Statement No. II.

Criminal Lunatics.

5. The total number of criminal lunatics confined in the several asylums in the year 1911 was 201—males 190 and females 11—as compared with 196—males 181 and females 15—in 1910 and 199—males 181 and females 18—in 1909. The average population for the three years was 184 males and 15 females against 168 males and 22 females for 1906—1908. The daily average strength was 161·5 against 153·6 in 1910 and 156·5 in 1909, the mean strength for the triennial period under review being 157·2 as compared with 141·0 for the previous period.

Statement No. III.

Religion, sex and residence of the insanes admitted.

6. Of the total admissions, including re-admissions, there were—

	1911.	1910.	1909.	Average.
				1909—1911.	1906—1908.

Statement No. IV.

Previous occupations of the insanes admitted.

7. Labourers furnished the largest number of admissions during the triennium under review, followed by domestic servants, merchants and traders, mendicants, cultivators, artisans and clerks. There was a marked fall in the admissions of soldiers, who averaged 7 as compared with 33 in the preceding triennium. The previous occupation could not be ascertained in 67 cases, on an average, and 43 had no occupation.

Statement No. V.

Ages of the insanes admitted.

8. The admissions and re-admissions according to age were as under :—

Types of Insanity.

9. The various types of insanity treated during the three years 1909—1911, as compared with the mean of the preceding three years 1906—1908, and the results attained, are summarized in the subjoined table :—

Statement No. VII.

Causes of Insanity.

10. Insanity was ascribed to specific causes in 800 cases or 58·5 per cent. as compared with 756 cases or 55·7 per cent. in 1910 and 745 cases or 55·0 per cent. in 1909, the mean ratio for the triennium being 56·4 against 54·2 for 1906-1908.

Of the known causes, there were—

	1911.	1910.	1909.	Average. 1909—1911.	Average. 1906—1908.
Physical	684	623	601	636	574
Moral	116	133	144	131	133

Of the physical causes, the use of intoxicating drugs, over indulgence in spirituous liquor, previous attacks, fever, epilepsy, hereditary causes, and mental trouble accounted for most of the admissions.

The cause of insanity could not be ascertained in 567 cases in 1911 against 601 in 1910 and 610 in 1909, the average number of these cases for the triennium being 593 against 599 in the preceding triennium 1906—1908.

The subjoined table gives an analysis of cases treated during 1909—11 as compared with 1906—08 :—

Cases.	Total known.										Total unknown.
	Physical.					Moral.
	1911.	1910.	1909.	Mean of 1909-11.	Mean of 1906-08.	1911.	1910.	1909.	Mean of 1909-11.	Mean of 1906-08.	1911.	1910.	1909.	Mean of 1909-11.	Mean of 1906-08.

Improved	49	35	26	37	34	6	8	14	9	9	21	39	34	31	27

Died	55	67	62	61	33	6	16	13	12	5	28	43	55	42	33

Great difficulty is experienced in many cases in obtaining any previous history of patients sent to asylums, and consequently the cause assigned for insanity is not always correct. There is rather a tendency to attribute insanity to the abuse of drugs and alcohol when these have only been an accessory and not the original or main cause of disease, which remains undiscovered from want of a reliable previous history of the patient.

Statement No. VIII.

Cash Accounts.

11. The receipts from paying patients rose from Rs. 26,634-10-11 in 1909 to Rs. 27,062-1-0 in 1910 and Rs. 29,762-5-2 in 1911, the average receipts for the triennium amounting to Rs. 27,819-11-0 as compared with Rs. 24,490-3-1 in 1906—1908.

The value of the stores received from the manufacturing department, less cost of raw materials, increased from Rs. 2,959-11-7 in 1909 to Rs. 3,062-11-3 in 1910 and Rs. 4,116-10-11 in 1911, the average value for the past three years being Rs. 3,979-11-3 against Rs. 2,437-12-3 for the triennial period 1906—1908.

The total expenditure amounted to Rs. 2,54,250-11-7 against Rs. 2,42,157-2-10 in 1910 and Rs. 2,63,279-7-2 in 1909. Deducting the receipts from paying patients, the value of stores received from the manufacturing department and the amounts realized on account of the sale of goods to the public, &c., the net expenditure would amount to Rs. 1,77,958-10-9 as compared with Rs. 1,74,282-15-4 and Rs. 1,96,826-5-6 in the years 1910 and 1909 respectively. Excluding the Public Works Department charges, the net expenditure for the triennial period under review, as compared with the mean of the preceding triennium, would be as under :—

		Rs.	a.	p.
1911		1,56,503	10	6
1910		1,57,152	13	2
1909		1,57,539	15	9
Average ...	1909—11	1,57,065	7	10
	1906—08	1,40,667	10	4

and the net cost per head of daily average strength would be Rs. 153-7-5 against Rs. 159-5-11 in 1910 and Rs. 159-5-8 in 1909, the mean for the triennium being Rs. 157-5-7 as compared with Rs. 147-13-5 for the previous triennial period 1906—1908.

The average increase in the net expenditure may be attributed to the increased number of patients treated and that in the cost per head to the increase in the charges under the different heads—diet (due to higher prices), bedding and clothing, contingencies and medicines, as shown below :—

		Establishment.	Diet.	Clothing and bedding.	Contingencies.	Medicines.
		Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.	Rs. a. p.
Mean Cost ...	1909-1911 ...	74,868 2 10	90,707 2 4	11,727 0 1	14,661 9 0	2,664 1 4
	1906-1908 ...	69,862 3 3	78,494 14 6	9,639 9 2	13,778 14 7	1,621 13 9

Amusements.

Various forms of recreation and amusements are provided for the insanes. Rs. 1,466-0-4 were spent for the purpose during the year 1911 as compared with Rs. 1,600-10-8 expended in 1910 and Rs. 1,703-10-1 in 1909, the average expenditure for the triennia 1906—1908 and 1909—1911 being Rs. 2,007-4-5 and Rs. 1,590-1-8 respectively.

STATEMENT No. X.

Receipts and Expenditure on account of manufactures.

12. The total credits of the Manufacturing Department amounted to Rs. 7,442-14-11 and debits to Rs. 2,662-10-3, showing a profit of Rs. 4,780-4-8 in 1911 as compared with Rs. 4,454-1-7 in 1910 and Rs. 3,652-2-4 in 1909, the mean profit for the triennium being Rs. 4,295-8-2 against Rs. 3,630-6-6 for 1906—1908.

The average number of insanes employed on manufactures during the triennium was 346·9 against 314·2 in 1906—1908.

It may be remarked that tractable insanes are employed in factories attached to the asylums, in the gardens or in other out-door occupations. Those of the patients who are capable of working, or being taught, are employed in the asylum factories where instruction is given to them. Others are employed, in different capacities, on work in the asylum gardens and grounds.

Visitors.

13. The official visitors were regular in their attendance at all the asylums.

Management.

14. The management of the asylums during the period under report has been satisfactory and the different officers have worked well in the superintendence of these institutions.

The difficulty still continues in obtaining a suitable class of men for work as Warders. This greatly increases the work of management, and until the pay and prospects of Warders are improved there seems little hope inducing a better and more intelligent class of men to enter the service.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

H. W. STEVENSON, Surgeon-General, I. M. S.,
Surgeon-General with the Government of Bombay.
